

NICARAGUAN PEACE IS SOUGHT

Arbitration Committee Seeks to Reconcile President Diaz and General Mena

U. S. MARINES PREVENTED CAPTURING OF MANAGUA

Rebels Fired at U. S. Legation;
Hundreds Killed in Yesterday's Battle

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Aug. 15.—(Via Porto Cortez, Costa Rica, by Wireless).—Led by General Mena, the Nicaraguan insurgents are again bombarding Managua. The attack was resumed at midnight last night. The rebels are reported as the heaviest losers, although exact figures are unavailable. Seventy non-combatants are reported injured. Many men and women missing from the city are believed to be in the hands of the rebels. At dawn the indications were that the town would fall. Casualties are already estimated at three hundred on each side. Marines Saved City Yesterday. SAN JUAN DEL SUR, Nicaragua, Aug. 15.—To compromise the troubles between President Diaz and General Mena, members of the Central American arbitration commission are near Managua today. It is believed they will begin the peace session immediately. President Diaz refused to appoint General Mena minister of war, claiming that the latter has fomented revolution. He feared Mena would not talk peace, and that American intervention would be necessary. Messages today confirm the reports that the presence of American marines in Managua prevented the capture of the city yesterday by the rebels. It is claimed rebel artillery deliberately fired at the American legation. No official estimate of the casualties have been made, but it is certain that hundreds, including women and children, were killed in yesterday's battle.

Yesterday's Fighting. United States marines from the American legation, augmented by those guarding the presidential palace, at a late hour yesterday morning repulsed a fierce attack upon Managua by rebels under command of Generals Mena and Zeledon. Desperate fighting lasted for several hours—2 o'clock until long after daylight. The bombardment had continued all night, the president's palace being hit twice and three shells narrowly missing the American legation. No Americans or other foreigners had been hurt when the rebels retired to a short distance from the city. The third day of the prolonged battle, which began with the bombardment on Sunday, was resumed Tuesday. Tuesday night an attempt was made to assassinate the government forces leader, General Chamorro, as he was walking in the streets.

NO RECORD OF WEDDING HERE

Ervin Roberts Did Not Select
This Gretna Green, if He Selected Any at All

If Ervin Roberts of Los Angeles is married, who did he marry and where did he marry her? A young woman carrying a six-month-old baby in her arms was puzzling over the question this afternoon. She walked into the office of the county clerk, laid the infant on the counter and asked if she might see the marriage records of the last few weeks. "I want to see if a license has been issued to Ervin Roberts," she said. County Clerk Williams showed her the index. She looked it over, and could not find the name she sought. "It is not there," she said. "This is called the Gretna Green, is it not?" "Sometimes," said Williams, "but that is no reason why they should not go to some other county." The woman picked up the baby and left. VACATION INSURANCE. —There's more danger of fire while you are away on vacation. See BEN E. TURNER about it. Try a Register Classified Ad.

Gov. Johnson Outlines His Speaking Tour

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 15.—Gov. Johnson returned to his office today, after his eastern absence. He outlined the following plans for his vice-presidential campaign: "I expect to leave California on Aug. 27, and will devote thirty days to the Eastern campaign, then return here. While I am in the East I expect Col. Roosevelt to be in the West. Upon my return I will spend my time in the coast states. I will spread the California doctrine wherever I speak." The governor then paid his usual respects to the opposing interests, saying: "I do not think any real Californian will deny me the privilege of preaching this California doctrine for a few weeks if necessary. Of course, the Calhouns, the Spreckelses, and their lackeys and degenerates, will object to the California doctrine of humanity. Those interests fortunately represent nothing but privilege and mendacity, therefore we need not concern ourselves with them."

Ralphs said Greenfield spoke as follows: "I decided to end our lives together. I went to Venice for two days' pleasure, intending to then drown ourselves. Too many people. # DARROW FIGHTS FOR NAME AND LIBERTY

Continues Impassioned Plea of Yesterday—Denounces
Bert Franklin

GRILLS HARRINGTON AS A TREACHEROUS FRIEND

Says no Honest Man Testified
Against Him—Judge Hutton
Gives Charge Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 15.—With a burst of oratory seldom paralleled in California court annals, Clarence Darrow today concluded his personal argument for his own liberty and honor before the jury trying him on the charge of bribing jurors in the McNamara trial. After recounting the entire McNamara affair including the negotiations for the McNamaras' plea of guilty, the defendant launched his peroration with tears streaming down his face. Fully half the audience was in tears. Concluding, he said: "My name is a by-word and a reproach in some places, but in my home town there are others who stand by me. I know deep down in the mines and stores and railroad shops, there are thousands and thousands, looking to this jury to save me and vindicate my name. Thousands of men and women and little children look to you. I place my fate in your hands." "If you twelve men send me to prison, I will go," Darrow said. "Life is like a game. I will play the game through the long, long night, with the cards I am dealt, until the break of day." Immediately at the close of his plea, he was surrounded by a crowd of tearful friends shaking his hands and patting his shoulders. He received their congratulations with tears coursing down his own cheeks. Many of the jurors wept as Darrow ended the greatest effort of his career. As his plea was concluded, the chimes of St. Vibiana's cathedral, a block away, where a wedding was being held, rang. The peal of the bells was followed by a burst of audible sobbing in the court room.

PLEA OF TODAY WAS CONTINUED FROM YESTERDAY

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 15.—Clarence Darrow resumed his argument to the jury, following his impassioned address yesterday. He declared he would defend himself today solely to the jurors in this case. He referred immediately to Bert Franklin's testimony that Darrow gave him $4000 on the morning of November 28. He recited the list of witnesses who have refuted Franklin's testimony, quoting the details of each denial. He aligned himself, Job Harriman, Fremont Older of the San Francisco Bulletin, Le Compté Davis and Frank Wolfe against Franklin and Harrington. He asked the jury: "With their two grand juries, their Burns outfit, and their Erectors' Association, they raked and scraped the whole country, and found only two honest men, Franklin and Harrington. All the rest are liars." Darrow was apparently more confident than he was yesterday. He was emphatic when he turned to the jury and declared: "Gentlemen, to convict me would be to convict yourselves. All of you would be a party to this plot to entrap the life and liberty of a fellow man. I do not believe there is a man here who will fool with my liberty."

He then voiced a bitter denunciation of Franklin. Later Judge Hutton announced that his charge to the jury would be ready tomorrow morning, and ready for delivery immediately after the district attorney concludes the state's final argument. The case will be with the jury tomorrow night.

After subjecting Bert Franklin to a terrific grilling, Darrow, still arguing his own case, turned his attentions to John R. Harrington, his former friend, who aided the State to collect the so-called dictograph evidence. Leading up to Harrington, Darrow referred to the detectives on his trail during the McNamara trial. "Which as the lies of Egypt," he declared. He then paraded "Detectives to the right of me; detectives to the left of me; detectives behind me; theirs not to reason which; theirs not to swear and lie. Nice detectives."

Returning to Harrington, he said: "Harrington slept in my bed and ate my salt. He then testified against me. He is afraid to look me in the eye for fear I would hypnotize him. I couldn't hypnotize him without a chunk of corned beef." Harrington posed as my friend, and lured me into a room where a dictograph had been planted to trap me into the penitentiary. Think of a man posing as a friend who puts a dictograph in your dining room and bedroom and destroys the privacy of your life. In the Chicago stockyards they once had a trained steer to lead the others to the shambles. When he reached the abattoir, he would turn aside and let the rest go to their doom. That is Harrington stigma

KELLY SCHOLARSHIP FOR OLYMPIC SUCCESS

Friends of Orange Boy to Create U.S.C.
Scholarship For Him and Other
Future Deserving Athletes

In recognition of the splendid success of Fred Kelly in winning hurdle race honors for California in the recent Olympic games at Stockholm, Los Angeles admirers of the Orange boy are establishing a Kelly scholarship in the University of Southern California, which will not only enable Kelly to complete his course at that institution, but which will become a permanent scholarship to be awarded to deserving young athletes of the future. It is intended to raise $1000 to establish the scholarship. The list has been led off by a $50 contribution from Lieutenant Governor Wallace and other Los Angeles people are responding liberally. The money will be turned over to the endowment fund of the university and Kelly will be given his education free for the remainder of his college course. When he graduates his place will be filled by some deserving boy. In selecting the men that will follow Kelly, it will always be remembered that he must be a young man of the Kelly type, who was having a hard time to make his way through college and who was depending on his own efforts for everything. After this, at least one deserving young athlete will get his dues paid from me on him and his descendants as long as his name endures."

Referring to his idea of Harrington's gastronomic proclivities, Darrow said: "Harrington dined at my house as often as he could. He would do now if he had a chance. He would have a dagger somewhere in his clothes if he had room for it after eating. That is Harrington." Pausing a moment to wipe his dripping face, Darrow continued: "Was Harrington a liar when he lured me to a room to destroy me? Will any juror give credence to a man like that? Show me one honest man who has raised his voice against me during the trial. Will you send me to prison and take away my good name on the word of knaves, rogues and immunity-hunters like that?"

ROOSEVELT DENIES ODELL STATEMENT

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Colonel Roosevelt, characterized as "untruthful and dishonest" in a dictated statement last night, the assertion of Benjamin B. Odell before the Senate investigating committee in Washington that Roosevelt, while President, asked the late E. H. Harriman for money for his presidential campaign. The ex-President first observed when the testimony of Odell was broached that he would make no comment.

"I haven't a thing to add to what was contained in my statement containing the letters published at that time. These letters speak for themselves and Mr. Sheldon's testimony bears that absolutely out. I never directly or indirectly asked Mr. Harriman for a dollar, and he never spoke to me about giving a dollar to the national campaign fund. On the contrary, he asked me to help him get for Odell and the state campaign some large sums of money from the national campaign committee on the ground that my election was safe anyhow, and that it was essential to help Odell carry the state ticket. "No human being can so much as

CANAL BILL CONFEREES AGREE ON PROVISIONS OF MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Striking out only the provision which granted free passage to American ships engaged in the foreign trade, the conference committee on the Panama Canal bill yesterday agreed on a measure which will revolutionize the shipping commerce of the United States. The provision giving free passage for American foreign shipping was stricken out because the committee did not deem it wise to complicate the more revolutionary legislation with any question of treaty obligations. This provision was not in the bill as it passed the House and is not deemed important at the present time. It was expected after the conference that the bill would be acted on in both House and Senate, although the lobby opposing has been fighting vigorously for delay. As the measure comes from conference it embodies the following: Grants exemption from tolls to American coastwise vessels; admits American registry foreign-built ships when owned by Americans and engaged in the foreign trade. Prohibits railroad-owned steamship lines from operating through the canal. Forbids the use of the canal to ships owned or chartered by persons or companies engaged in interstate trade in violation of the Sherman law. Forbids, after the first day of July, 1914, railroad ownership, directly or indirectly, of any common carrier by water operated through the Panama Canal or elsewhere in the United States with which such railroads do or may compete for traffic. Gives complete jurisdiction to the Interstate Commerce Commission to determine questions of fact as to the competition or possibility of competition between railroad and water carrier. Compels water carriers to file schedules of rates with the Interstate Commerce Commission. Admits free of duty to the United States all materials for the building of ships. Provides for a one-man government of the canal. Fixes tolls for ships in the foreign trade at not more than $1.25 per net registered ton, and not less than a rate sufficient to pay for the operation and maintenance of the canal. Empowers the President to change toll rates from time to time subject to the limitations of the act. Authorizes the President to install the new civil government of the canal when in his judgment the waterway is completed.

VETO POWER IS AGAIN USED

President Disapproves of the Omnibus Appropriations
Measure

CONGRESS AT ONCE ASKED TO PASS BILL OVER VETO

Debate Opens—Cabinet Discusses Necessity of Intervening in Nicaragua

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—President Taft today vetoed the executive, legislative, and judicial appropriations bill. His disapproval of the measure because it abolishes the commerce court, and provides for a seven-year term for all clerks in the government service, was the reason for the President's vetoing the bill. After the veto was read to Congress, Representative Johnson of Kentucky moved to pass the bill over the veto. Two hours' debate was granted.

DISCUSSES INTERVENTION IN NICARAGUAN AFFAIRS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—President Taft and his cabinet met today in special session, presumably to discuss the exigencies of the legislative situation.

ADJOURNMENT SATURDAY MAY BE HALTED BY VETO AND CANAL BILL

Congressional leaders predicted today that only two things will prevent adjournment Saturday, the possibility that President Taft will veto the budget bill, which abolishes the commerce court, and a possible fight over the conference report on the canal bill. The naval, pension and appropriation bills are expected to pass. The House probably will reject the Senate amendment to the cotton bill, which repeals most of the Canadian reciprocity agreement. The sugar and excise bills will probably die. The House is expected to accept the Senate's parcels post amendment to the postoffice bill.

SANTA ANAS EATING HEARTY

First Sergeant and Quartermaster Sergeant Arrested
But Soon Turned Loose

CAMP SALINAS, Aug. 12.—Company L, Seventh Infantry, N.G.C., of Santa Ana, came to camp on Sunday afternoon about five miles out of Salinas. The company has one of the largest companies in camp. The boys are all in fine spirits.

The Seventh Regiment arrived in Salinas about 2 o'clock, formed and marched about five miles. Camp was pitched for the night. The boys had the joy of eating in the dark, but there was no kicking, and everything went fine.

After the night's rest, camp was broken about 9:30 and the company hiked about four miles out and back and again pitched camp. The noon meal was late, and it was enjoyed by a hungry lot of fellows.

Capt. N. A. Ulm was the guest of General Wankowski on a visit to Salinas, leaving Lieut. McBride in charge of the company.

The only unpleasant happening of the camp this week was the arrest of First Sergeant F. A. Ekman and Quartermaster Sergeant N. L. Ulm, when they went to buy some fruit for the company. They had to wait until the medical official came and relieved them. The quartermaster has the right to buy anything he wants for the company.

FISHERMAN'S CLUB AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

On next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock Rev. T. C. Horton of the Bible Institute, Los Angeles, and members of the Fisherman's Club will have charge of the C. E. meeting at the First Baptist church.

Those who have heard the Fishermen will surely want to hear them again and those who have not heard them should do so.

All young people of the city are most cordially invited. This invitation includes everybody under 100 years.

Last evening at the Fisherman meetings at Orange the sermon was delivered by Harry Hill. The subject was, "The Leprosy of Sin." The lesson was taken from the record of the ten lepers in the 17th chapter of Luke. The sermon was a call to separation—a call to love Christ more. He talked of the Christ who died for us. One thing he talked on was "All this I did for thee. What hast thou done for me?" These were supposed to be the words of Jesus.

Mr. Whitcomb sang, "Do You Love Me More Than These?" He sang so sweetly and earnestly that every one was touched by the words.

The Fishermen want to plan for a Santa Ana day at the meetings. No arrangements have been made yet as to any certain day but announcement of that will be made later.

PARISIAN Sage does not contain Sugar or Lead; a poison that often causes blood poison and sometimes death. Ask your dealer if he can guarantee some other hair preparations not to contain Lead or Nitrate of Silver.

PARISIAN Sage is not a dye. Most dyes are dangerous. It is a hair nourisher, grower and beautifier and quickly banishes dandruff, stops hair from falling, and scalp itch. Large bottle 50 cents at the Rowley Drug Company and dealers everywhere.

WALNUT CROP BIG INCREASE

S. P. Reports Indicate That
There Will be 2000 Tons
More Than Last Year

Los Angeles Tribune: Southern California walnut crop this fall will be greater by 2000 tons than last year's crop, according to estimates made yesterday by the statisticians of the Southern Pacific freight department, who have been hard at work for the past few days. The output will be about 12,665 tons this year.

All districts show an increase. The nuts will be finer than ever before, in the opinion of the experts who have been studying the condition of the trees.

The Santa Barbara-Carpinteria district, which includes also Goleta, La Patera, Caromar and Ventura, will produce 1200 tons, it is estimated; the district comprising Oxnard, Santa Paula, Satonic and Haines, 1620 tons; the Monte district of Walnut, Pueno, Bassett, Tropico, Alhambra, Pomon, Arcadia and Lankershim, 2390 tons; the Santa Ana district, with Orange, Anaheim, Ardmore, Fullerton, Los Nietos, La Habra and Rivera, 7545 tons; total 12,665 tons.

SOCK FAD SEEMS TO BE REAL ONE

Gay Colors of Masculine Hose
Win Women of Washington,
D. C. to Their Wearing

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 15.—For months the husbands of Washington have wondered why the "sock boxes" which adorn their chiffoniers have always been empty.

Wives when questioned have responded: "Your socks are all dirty, dear. Why don't you think to put them in the wash and then you need not growl about them every day or so."

In his ignorance the husband has ceased to "growl" and made the best of it, usually buying a fresh supply on his way down town. The mistress of the household has kept a straight face and said nothing.

But stolen socks, like murder, will out, and thousands of former "growlers" will know what has become of the "sopping hose" which in times past have vanished from their wardrobes or dressing tables.

Saleswomen in the hosiery departments the other day explained away the mystery. Appropriated and not "dirty" is the word which is the key to the situation, in short. Washington women have been and are now wearing their husbands' socks. And one of man's last claims to superiority has been taken from him without his knowledge.

"Of course women are wearing men's socks," said a saleswoman in a Pennsylvania avenue department store the other day. "Society women are wearing their husbands' socks these hot days and holding them up with their husbands' garters as well."

"If the men had only been content to wear plain hosiery all would have been well. They clamored for color and figures, however. The garden, the rainbow, the peacock, were robbed for color schemes for masculine hose. The women became envious. The shades to which they had access were dull and tame. Boldly they reached out and began wearing men's half hose in all their gaudy colors."

"Every day we sell the women dozens of pairs of half hose. Most of them say, 'I want something suitable for my husband,' but that is all bluff, you know."

DRY LAND IS NOT DESERT, SAYS U. S.

Land Office Recognizes Modern Methods of Dry Farming in Late Decision

BOZEMAN, Mont., Aug. 15.—Word has been received here that the decision of the local land office in the case of Mrs. E. L. Houston against B. W. Spaulding, a desert land entryman, which it is said, will affect hundreds of homesteaders throughout the West, has been confirmed by department officials at Washington.

Mrs. Houston, the contestant, alleged that the land in question was not desert land as adjoining land of a similar character was yielding profitable crops without irrigation. The decision recognizes the modern methods of dry farming.

SAVES $40,000 BY SAVING PENNIES

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 15.—A chest containing 275 pounds of pennies was put on deposit at a bank here yesterday to the credit of Carl W. Stordant, a real estate man. The pennies, more than $40,000 in all, were turned over to Stordant as an initial payment to bind the sale of a downtown restaurant. The purchaser, a cafe owner, had taken in the pennies over his bar during a long course of years.

He had made a habit of brushing all the pennies he received into a slot, which connected with a chest in the cellar.

To The Republican Voters Of the 1st Supervisorial District.

Ten Good Reasons Why You Should Vote for W. L. Grubb For Supervisor

1. He is a man of absolute integrity.

Not only is his honesty the kind that wouldn't steal your purse or cheat you in a business transaction; but it is an ingrained honesty of thought and purpose—the kind that is instinctively alarmed and repelled by hidden or equivocal meanings or suggestions; that cannot be deceived by technicalities; that recognizes and highly esteems ethical values that can not be weighed in terms of gold or counted in denominations of currency.

2. He is a tactful and diplomatic man, whose tact and diplomacy is not the kind that awakens suspicions of evasive intent or ulterior motive, but the kind that springs from a kindly heart and a considerate mind.

3. He is an able man—a man of "hard horse sense," as we sometimes say, which means that most uncommon kind of sense which we erroneously call "common sense."

4. He is a brave man—not a bravado or a brawler, but naturally and quietly brave—the kind of bravery that accompanies a healthy body and a clean, uncovetous soul.

5. He is a lovable man—the kind of man that men love, and little children—and that kind of man can be trusted implicitly, in both public and private life.

6. He is a man of large and successful executive ability—the kind of ability that sweeps aside non-essentials and drives straight and strong towards the main point—and gets there, too.

7. He is in the prime of life, with all the vigor of mind and body of youth, tempered and strengthened by the wisdom and endurance of mature years.

8. He is an enterprising, up-to-date growing man; an open-minded man; a student of men and affairs. His own success in life attests his ability to successfully handle public affairs.

9. He is free from all political or personal alliances or entanglements which could possibly bias or blind him or hamper him in any way in the performance of his duties as a public official.

10. He is a candidate not so much of his own volition or seeking as in response to the call of the most enterprising citizenship of the district—and yet he is heart and soul in the campaign to win and deeply sensible of the honor and obligation that success at the polls would confer and impose upon him.

NATIONS PROSPERITY IS NOW MOST FIRMLY ESTABLISHED

Equitable Insurance Co. Head Finds Good Evidence of This in Seven Weeks Trip of 13,000 Miles

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—William A. Day, president of the Equitable Life Insurance Society, has just completed a seven weeks' trip of 13,000 miles, during which he visited nearly thirty-six cities in nearly all the states of the Union. The purpose of the journey was to discover suitable fields of investment for $400,000,000 says the American Banker.

After completing his trip, the president of the Equitable was enthusiastic over what he saw and heard. He found that while the people everywhere were concerned in the solution of political and social problems they were even more engrossed in commerce; and, as Mr. Day puts it, while agitation upon such subjects may cause temporary slackness in certain lines of trade or in many lines of trade for short periods of time, the sun comes up every day just the same, and rain falls, and the crops grow. Although Americans may differ upon political questions, they are agreed in an optimistic business spirit which prevails everywhere, and just now is even more apparent than usual.

The prosperity of this country is so firmly rooted in the soil that no one has power to disturb it. In 1911 the abnormally large cotton crop did wonders for the south, started up the languishing mills and brought into that section a large and continuous stream of money, of which it was awfully in need. Formerly a bumper cotton crop was regarded as a calamity because it depressed prices, but now the opposite view is accepted and short crops are seen to be a calamity, because they make the prices of raw cotton so high that the mills in the south are obliged to shut down. With a large crop they are able to keep open and so attract to their section the resources which are so much needed. Mr. Day finds that the farms of the south are increasing in number and value and that the Mississippi floods will not be an unmitigated evil, as they have greatly enriched the soil of the Mississippi bottoms.

Hereafter irrigation will be the great issue of the far west where vast areas of arid lands have been redeemed by this means. The conversion of deserts into fertile territories is a transformation which adds vastly to the wealth of the country and the material well being of ever increasing populations.

Wherever the Equitable president traveled he found the people in expectation of abundant harvest and of consequent prosperity. Everywhere the spirit of optimism was abroad and the opposite tendency nowhere found expression. When agriculture, which is the basis of commerce and manufactures, is making such extraordinary strides there can be but one sequel, and that is a vast and continuous expansion in every form of national wealth.

Automobile Club Run To Oceanside and San Luis Rey Was Success

With an ideal day for motoring and a good-natured crowd, yesterday's run of the Santa Ana Automobile Club to Oceanside and San Luis Rey mission proved to be an enjoyable and successful affair. The roads were in fair condition all the way, San Diego County's roads being in far superior condition. Orange County has a number of bad stretches between Serra and the county line.

There were fifteen automobiles in the line, all carrying four or more persons, excepting one machine which had two. The pilot car was the Stutz, driven by Fred Ross of Wm. F. Lutz & Company. A hundred times on the trip the automobile displayed its excellencies. It took hills just as though it liked nothing better. On one of the steepest and longest grades the Stutz started climbing the hill at ten miles an hour and finished the climb at twenty-five miles an hour, and was still gaining speed when the ascent was completed. Just as a demonstration, Ross hit it up a level stretch at fifty-two miles an hour.

Fifty-two miles an hour, however, was not the pace set for the run. The pilot car set a little better than eighteen miles an hour, which was the average kept up to Oceanside, which was reached at 11:30 o'clock, three hours after starting. The cyclistometer showed fifty-four and some tenths miles.

The ride was a beautiful one. After leaving the fine drives and orange orchards of Tustin, the automobilists came out on the great San Joaquin ranch, the valley and lower slopes of which are massed in green bean fields. Along the way teams were seen at work, for the cutting of the vast acreage of limas was beginning. Bean cutters were at work, and men busy piling the vines for drying to await the thrasher.

On the Way Down The beauties of the famous San Juan Capistrano valley are too well known to need description. Some of the machines made a brief stop at the mission. Richard Egan was on the porch of his mission town home to wave greetings to the passing machines. At Serra, Jack Landell and his family were on their porch for the same purpose, a big American flag unfurled for the occasion.

The journey down the coast was delightfully cool. Along the mesa for miles were bean fields, this crop on the level lands taking the place of grain of a few years back.

Arrived at Oceanside, some of the automobiles drove about the town. Basket lunches were spread on the beach between the pier and the bath house, and hot coffee was served.

From Oceanside the automobilists went to the old Franciscan mission, San Luis Rey. In the valley three miles above Oceanside, a brown-frocked padre showed the visitors around, answered a few hundred questions and imparted information concerning many things from the founding of the mission in 1798 to the present day condition of the place.

From the mission, the automobilists turned homeward, the arrival here being about 6 o'clock. The Stutz registered exactly 122 miles for the trip.

Santa Ana Beets The rich lowlands of the San Mateo, Santa Margarita and San Luis Rey, the Santa Ana found beet fields to remind them that Santa Ana and those places are more closely connected than a stranger might think. These sugar beet fields are acreage under contract with the Southern California Sugar Company. L. A. Collier was met on the road to Santa Ana after a trip of inspection in the beet fields. At Oceanside the visitors were met by J. W. Plagg of Santa Ana, who is representing the sugar factory in the harvest of the San Luis Rey beets. On the road from Oceanside to the San Luis Rey mission, wagons hauling sugar beets destined to be sliced by the Southern California Sugar Company at Delhi were met. One of the difficulties of getting the sugar beets to the station from the fields two and a half miles up the canyon is the necessity of a haul up the grade. However, the haul up the grade seemed to take no more horse-drawn than is used in getting wagons out of some of the sandy fields closer home. Most of the fields looked as though the yield would be heavy.

Highway Stakes The stakes set by the surveyors of the State Highway Commission were interesting promises of a better road down the coast. In Orange county these stakes were set all the way from the county line to within about a mile of the turn at Serra. Much of the way the present road is followed. In some places it is shortened.

Notes of the Journey Clyde Walker, secretary of the automobile club, was in charge of the run, which was successful throughout. Everybody had a good time.

Dr. Gordon and his automobile were rescued by the men of the party. A four-mile team crowded the doctor off the good part of a road that was not very good anywhere, and when the other machines came up the rear wheels were throwing sand and the machine was standing still. A dozen men seized the automobile and shoved it into the middle of the road.

J. G. Quirk and F. W. Weissman know all about fixing a puncture on a grade where the sun pours down its hottest. They got the experience yesterday.

Fred Ross invented a new kind of blow-out. One of his tires took three explosions and a half-mile run to get the wind out of the tire. The Lutz repair car arrived, a quick change of tires was made, and the car went on without another mishap.

The Lutz repair car had little to do yesterday. A little tire trouble measured the limit of difficulties of the trip.

Fred Marsile had Deputy Sheriff J. W. Murray in his car. Needless to say Marsile kept well within the speed limits, sometimes.

City Trustee Grubb had City Trustee Greenleaf and Russell Scott as his guests. The tradition that all three of them are good eaters was proven to be present day facts.

John Cubbon and Dr. Jesse Chilton and their parties motored on to San Diego.

Automobiles were in line driven or owned by Fred Ross, J. M. Akin, John Cubbon, Dr. Jesse Chilton, Dr. H. S. Jordan, Mrs. Ayas, C. H. Franzen, W. H. Bowman, E. Borgmeyer, E. Waffle, C. F. Crose, Fred Marsile, F. A. Miller and J. G. Quirk. The repair car made the fifteenth car.

NARROW ESCAPE WHEN AUTO BRAKE FAILED TO WORK

Anaheim Gazette: Another fortunate escape from a serious catastrophe occurred on last Saturday at the Santa Fe crossing on Bradford avenue, Placentia. As train No. 2, which is due in Placentia at 9:35 a. m., was stopping to receive passengers at the station, the brake or other stopping gear in the machine driven by Mrs. Nels Anderson, failed to work and the car ran into the train. Fortunately the car was moving at a very low rate of speed and no very serious injury was done to the machine and the occupants were unharmed. The lady in the machine with Mrs. Anderson fainted. The radiator and one lamp were broken.

MASS MEETING IS CALLED AUGUST 21

Fullerton Trustees Ask Attendance at Open-Air Session

Fullerton Tribune: A mass meeting will be held on the lawn in front of the Midland hotel Wednesday night of next week for the purpose of discussing the water-works and good roads, which will be voted upon at the special election on Thursday, August 23. The meeting has been called by the city trustees at the request of a number of citizens. The plans for the water plant, the needs of the city in this respect, and general plans for improvement in Fullerton will be fully explained.

Every voter who can possibly attend should be at this meeting. Any doubt as to the advisability of proceeding in the manner in which the board has outlined will be dispelled. Many citizens realize that the city faces a crisis in its municipal affairs. Efforts have been made to block public improvements with which Fullerton is now the only city in Orange county unimproved.

The present board was chosen on the issue of public improvements which citizens desired carried out and the board has set about to carry forward this program. If it still has the hearty support of the people of the city.

SKIN GRAFTING IS USED AT ANAHEIM

Anaheim Gazette: Clarence Trindle, the young man who was so seriously burned at the Colby garage on Los Angeles street a month ago, was subjected to the skin-grafting process at the hospital Tuesday. His back and hips were frightfully burned and refused to heal and the physicians decided to resort to skin-grafting. Two hundred persons volunteered to donate portions of cuticle, and it is hoped his sufferings will be alleviated when the burned surface is covered with borrowed skin.

Olive Oil for Leather. The best way to keep black leather shoes from looking worn, and also from breaking, is to dip a small flannel rag in olive oil and rub it into the leather, says the New Haven Journal-Courier. If it needs further rubbing or wiping, take a fresh dry flannel rag and go over it. This method keeps footwear black without polishing it, and provides a dulled finish.

A SENSIBLE SYSTEM

San Bernardino county charter planners propose that their roads shall be built by a skilled engineer, and not by politicians. Under the system outlined in the Enterprise yesterday, the supervisors will create five road districts each of which is to have an overseer. Over all will be the highway commissioner, his salary to be fixed by the supervisors.

Every thinking citizen will concede that this is sensible. In Riverside county as well as in San Bernardino and most others, the supervisors themselves undertake the task of building the roads in their sections. Now a supervisor may be a first-class road builder. History records such examples, but they are not many.

A supervisor is elected primarily because he knows how to get the votes, is popular, is a good campaigner, or has aided his neighbors. One of the principal businesses of a county is to make and keep in order highways, and a good deal of the time of a supervisor is taken up with these duties, if there is any money appropriated.

If a supervisor understands the technical part of constructing roads, is earnest, energetic and honest, the money appropriated by the county may be well spent. Often it is wasted. Sometimes it is stolen. Usually it is not invested to the best advantage because of the ignorance of the supervisor in charge of its expenditure. The result is the county gets half or two-thirds for its taxes that it should.

Again with opposing supervisors contending for appropriations for each one's particular district, very often the most forcible one gets more than his share. The laggard or more retiring supervisor is robbed, or rather his district is robbed, of its true proportion of public moneys.

San Bernardino would remedy this. It would have the supervisors still responsible for the county funds, but would not permit amateur and bungling methods to interfere with the creation and maintenance of a thorough system of county roads.

The present plan is antiquated, ridiculous, and a survival of the period of the motto, "To the victor belongs the spoils." It is as absurd as it would be to leave to the councilman in each ward the care of the streets there.—Riverside Enterprise.

WITHOUT PAY

One of the freak incidents caused by the entrance of a new element into politics is the declaration of a woman candidate for the legislature in the state of Washington that if elected she will serve without pay. The proposal itself is not unique, because at times men have talked of serving in office without pay. But the lady in question declares that she will not take pay because she can live as cheaply at the capital as at home, and is willing to give her time for a few weeks a year to the services of the public in this capacity.

"The argument has a superficial plausibility," says the Fresno Republican, "and may gain the lady a few votes, but it ought not to. While the ethics of office holding, for either men or women, have not been well codified, it is the tendency of the present day to say that office holders should be compensated for their time by the state, and not be enabled to compete for their positions on the plea that they can live without salaries, nor indeed be forced to eke out their public pay from the accumulation of previous fortune hunting. The English theory has been that no one without independent means should stand for parliament. The change there has been forced largely by the action of the Labor Party in providing salaries from their own funds for representatives that they manage to elect. The very compensation of privately paid members with "gentlemen" members, as well as the feeling that many worthy men were kept out of parliament by lack of means, caused the government to arrange for public payment of salaries.

"Should women, as members of a state legislature, be able to serve without pay, it would be because they had an independent income, either through inheritance, accumulation of past savings, or having a complaisant husband. It is questionable whether it would be wise to permit, in the competition for office, an argument of this kind to weigh against men or women otherwise qualified to worthily fill office."

THE AGITATOR

Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire bewails the activity of Louis Brandeis as an "agitator."

Most of us have not the energy nor the public spirit to be interested in purifying the public. We occasionally meet with a housekeeper who is insane in hunting for specks of dirt. But within its limits, the dirt hunting is necessary. There will be more honor to Brandeis in the annals of his country, than to Gallinger, whose life work has been one long apology for those who have sought to make the public's rights playthings for themselves. There is no agitation so startling to the nerves as the shrilling of the policeman's whistle in the ears of the safecracker.

The agitator knows that his business has its objectionable sides, nor does he glory in them, but he persists just the same. Like spring housecleaning, agitation must occur periodically with us or the house will be unendurable. The dishes must be washed, if we would eat again in comfort, the clothes renovated, the carpets swept and occasionally beaten. The dust sometimes gets in our eyes and ears, but better there than always under foot and sifting onto us from unexpected places while we sleep.

He who rails at agitating should find a parallel in bewailing the amount of time that is spent in keeping clean the house and the streets, for agitation is but washing the body politic of the accumulation of filth and disease that must result from living in a healthy life amid conditions of growth and decay.—Fresno Republican.

What Other Papers Are Saying Editorially

A VALUABLE ASSET
Orange News: The city of Orange is at this time particularly fortunate in having a sewer system that makes possible the enforcement of sanitary conditions.

That dread disease, infantile paralysis, which is attacking children in many parts of the South, is puzzling physicians, but this much is apparent—it makes its greatest progress in places where the sanitary conditions offer a foothold for disease germs.

But a year ago, Orange was in a situation that would make it impossible, in case of a threatened epidemic, such as the present one, to enforce one of the most important sanitary measures, the disposal of sewage. Now we have an excellently working sewer system and are able to avert one of the great dangers of such a time. The practical value of the city's progressive improvement policy was never better illustrated.

Our Washington Letter

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Uniforms of bullet proof cloth, such as has recently been invented in Japan, will probably be prescribed by the army authorities for the corps of aviators, it is learned at the War Department. The circumstance which will bring about this order was the recent wounding of an Italian flying scout, who was struck high in air by an Arab bullet while over Tripoli.

Capt. Monte is the name of the Italian officer who thus gained the distinction of being the first aviator to be wounded by a rifle bullet. He was badly wounded, but gripped control of his senses and piloted his fragile monoplane back to his own camp, landing safely and delivering to his commanding officer valuable information of the enemy which he had gained on his flight. His machine was hit four times by the enemy's "duck-hunters."

Capt. Monte also succeeded in dropping some damaging bombs in the Arab ranks. His experience, however, has demonstrated to army scientists studying the needs of military aeroplaning, the necessity of better protection for pilots against rifle fire from the ground. It is probable that in the near future the aviator's seat in all army aeroplanes will be protected with light armor from firing from beneath. There will also be an investigation of the bullet-proof clothing recently brought out in Japan, with the idea of adopting some such sort of uniform for the members of the signal corps.

Freak Letters

When U. S. Treasurer Lee McClung has nothing else on his mind he can find time for official diversion by answering letters from cranks. Every now and then some one springs a new idea whereby the people of the United States may have plenty of money without skipping or worrying about small change.

Recently McClung got a letter from a western man who had a proposition which if worked out would enable every person in the country to borrow all the money he wanted at any time from the public funds "not otherwise appropriated," as the statesmen say. The beauty of this plan was that nobody would have to bother the peaky banks and any old kind of collateral would do. The effect on the government wasn't specifically described in the letter.

Another letter, from a gentleman modestly describing himself as "The King of America," demanded that the treasurer call in all the money in circulation. The purpose of the writer wasn't quite clear. This letter first went to the Secretary of the Treasury, but wound up in McClung's office and the genial treasurer had to reply to it formally.

Then again, McClung is kept busy with letter writers who want Confederate and other worthless kinds of money redeemed. Quite frequently a consignment of "shin" plasters finds its way to him. There is a premium on some of the obsolete varieties of "shin plasters," but other varieties are practically worthless. The premium exists merely because there is a demand for this old paper by certain collectors and numismatists.

For careful supervision of department expenditures—careful for his standpoint—Attorney General Wickensham probably has something on most cabinet officers. It has long been the custom of government officers to make use of the little emoluments which come within their prerogatives. Thus a cabinet officer would in most cases believe himself entitled to use of the franking privilege even when sending out personal letters. If he made a speech he would have the government printing office print it at government expense.

But not so with Wickensham. If he addresses any member of his family he uses a stamp which he pays for himself. If he sends out any mail matter which might under any circumstances be construed as private business and not strictly concerned with the government's affairs he pays for the postage. When he makes a speech and his friends send in for copies he has it printed at his own expense.

It is not so long ago that Secretary Knox was severely criticized by a House committee for keeping his valet on the payroll of the State Department as a messenger.

Fear of Congressional Passes
"Officers of the government departments stand in less fear of congressmen and senators than they used to," observed the private secretary of a cabinet officer lately.

"It was not so long ago that a congressman coming into a department and approaching a chief of a bureau looked like an awful big man. Lots of times he didn't need to come at all to get what he wanted. He'd just sit at the telephone in his office and call up the head of the bureau. When the government employee found out that a congressman was at the other end of the wire there would be a great commotion. The chief and his assistants would work themselves into a paroxysm of energy to get the statesman anything he wanted. If he wanted a star route established by the Postoffice Department, he got it. If he wanted a constituent transferred he got it. If it was impossible to accede to his demands profuse apologies and promises were offered in lieu thereof.

"But now it's different. If a congressman wants something he puts his application in the regular order. Nobody tears the office upside down if he approaches. He waits just as long for an interview as anyone else, gets the same treatment and no distinction is made. Government clerks have got wise to the fact that a congressman is not such a gigantic proposition after all.

THE BULLETLESS GUN.

It shoots a Choking Gas, and the Secret Service Will Use It.

The bulletless gun has at last made its appearance. It is a German invention, and instead of bullets it shoots a gas which temporarily blinds and chokes the victim.

The cartridge used contains several ingredients, which, when exploded, combine to form a vapor of a peculiar character. The gun itself differs very little in appearance and mechanism from the ordinary double action revolver. It holds five cartridges.

The action of the vapor may best be imagined by considering the position of the person shot at. The appearance of the weapon, the report and the flare of the powder combine to convince the victim that he has been shot at with an ordinary firearm. His eyes and mouth open in surprise, and the gases generated by the combination of the chemicals envelop his head completely, penetrating his eyes and affecting his sight.

For several minutes he is practically blind. Simultaneously the mucous membranes of the nose and throat are irritated and the victim sneezes and chokes. For a minute or two the victim finds it almost impossible to breathe.

It is obvious that no individual, even if he were as strong as Hercules, would be in a position to put up much of a fight while in such a condition.

Chief William J. Flynn of the United States secret service has decided to adopt this weapon for use in the service. In rounding up bands of counterfeiters and other offenders against the federal laws the chief believes the chemical gun will prove just as effective and at the same time more humane than the ordinary weapon, which frequently kills the prisoner. Overpowered by the fumes of this new gun, any criminal, however dangerous, may be readily captured, and by the time the effects of the vapor have worn off the prisoner is safely manacled.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

TWO COSTLY DISEASES.

Tuberculosis and Typhoid Keep Life Insurance Rates High.

While state commissions and other bodies are trying to find a method for reducing the cost of life insurance Professor James Glover of the University of Michigan demonstrates that every policy holder of a $10,000 ordinary whole life policy could save about $20 a year on his premiums if tuberculosis and typhoid fever were eliminated.

Tuberculosis alone causes a loss to such a policy holder of from $16.70 at twenty to $17.70 at the age of sixty. At the age of twenty, with the present high death rates from tuberculosis, this one disease alone shortens the complete expectation of life by two years and 158 days.

While the death rate from tuberculosis seems to be declining, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis says that the combined effort of every man, woman and child to help in stamping out the disease is necessary to bring about a radical reduction in life insurance rates such as Professor Glover has indicated.

The Wireless Distress Call.

An interesting statement in connection with the "S O S" and "C Q D" wireless calls was made by Guglielmo Marconi in connection with the Titanic disaster. He said that these letters were arbitrarily selected and mean nothing except calls of distress. Originally "C Q" was a signal for all stations to cease operations and pay attention to the operator sending the call, the "D" being added when it was used for a distress signal. At an international conference in Berlin a short time ago the "S O S" sign was agreed upon to supplant "C Q D" because the former, consisting of three dots, three dashes and three dots, was the simplest, easiest and quickest call to send as a danger signal.—Popular Mechanics.

Shortens the Visits.

An officer of a large business concern found the notices, "This is My Busy Day" and "He Who Talks and Runs Away May Live to Talk Another Day," which were posted in his room ineffective. Friends would "drop in," sit down and take up valuable time with idle gossip. His private office contained several upholstered chairs and a settee, which one day were removed by his order and have never been replaced. Since then all visitors have been compelled to stand, except when a certain bell is rung, which the attendant knows means "Bring a chair."—New York Tribune.

A "Wireless" Newspaper.

The inhabitants of the Magdalen Islands in the gulf of St. Lawrence, who are deprived of ordinary communication with the mainland for half the year, are in future to be provided with a week end wireless news dispatch at the expense of the Canadian government. Each dispatch, which will average 1,000 words, will be placed in the hands of all the ministers of religion, who will read the mainland news to their congregations after each service.

Short, Sharp and Effective.

The commercial law of China has little chance of adoption in this country, but it is short, sharp and effective, containing only these four rules:

Those who deal with merchants unfairly are to be beheaded.

Those who interrupt commerce are to be beheaded.

Those who attempt to close the markets are to be beheaded.

Those who maintain the prosperity of commerce are to be rewarded.

Interesting Convention Held Here Yesterday—Santa Ana Women Perfect Hostesses

With several state officers present, the Rebekah convention of District Number Fifty, including a school of instruction, was successfully held here yesterday in Odd Fellows' Hall with a large number of visitors from outside localities present. The Santa Ana lodge acting as hostess to the delegates was Torosa, and most hospitably did the ladies of this organization perform their duties. The various committees on duty were made up as follows:

Reception—Misses Myrtle Wilson, Hazel Bonus; Mesdames Ida Carey, Belle Buck, Leota Allen, Fannie Lacy. Decoration—Mesdames Buck, Elliott, Moore, Ella Mitchell, Irene Mitchell, Slocum.

Refreshment—Mesdames Cook, Martin, Paul, Metz, Carey, Robinson, Rumsey, Cullom, Ford, Young, Mitchell, Adams, Mullinix, Congdon.

Mrs. Ada Madison of San Diego, past grand president, was instructor and most thoroughly was her work done. Other grand officers present were Past Presidents Van Court of Los Angeles and Merrick of Long Beach; Grand Marshal Stockwell and Grand Warden Fannie Lacy. Mrs. Calk, past president of the Arizona Grand Assembly and Mrs. Ellis, also a past president from some state the name of which was not ascertained, were visitors.

The auditorium, parlors and banquet room were most effectively decorated, pink lilies, poppies, ferns and the trailing hop vine being used in profusion. A most elaborate dinner was served on tables decked with flowers and greenery. Place cards, hand-painted by Miss Hazel Bonus, bore the three-links design of the Odd Fellows.

After the serving of light refreshments for the evening repeat most of the visiting delegates departed for their homes. Mrs. Madison, however, remained for the regular session of Torosa held last evening. She was greatly pleased with the work put on by the Torosa drill team during initiation of new members. Last night's session, participated in principally by Santa Ana Rebekahs, was a pleasant close to the all-day convention.

MARRIAGE OF INTEREST

Former Santa Ana High School Boy to Wed Charming Girl of National City

George Robert Livingston of Greenfield, Cal., passed through Santa Ana this week, stopping a day with his uncle, W. H. McMurphy, North Broadway, en route for National City, where he is to be married to Miss Marjorie May Johnson, daughter of Dr. Johnson of National City, tomorrow.

Mr. Livingston took two years of his high school course in Santa Ana, and has since finished a five-year course in the University of California, and has been elected to teach mathematics in San Diego high school the coming year.

His many friends wish him all joy in his married life and great success in his work.

Mrs. Livingston of Greenfield and her sister, Mrs. W. H. McMurphy of Santa Ana went to San Diego today to be present at the wedding.

Miss Johnson, the bride-to-be, is a most accomplished young woman. She not only completed the four years at the university at Berkeley, but had two years of post graduate course in the university affiliated college of medicine, receiving a doctor's degree.

Lecture Postponed
Rev. Sam Small is detained on account of illness and will not be able to lecture at Spurgeon Memorial church tonight.

Band Concert
The band concert program last night was finely rendered before an appreciative crowd. The absence of the children, owing to the present scarcity of infantile paralysis, made a considerable difference in the size of the crowd.

Met With Orange Member
The Young Married People's Class of the First Methodist church had a regular business meeting and social at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Freeman at Orange last evening. There were about twenty-four members of the class present.

The Freeman home was prettily decorated with a profusion of blue and white passion flowers. An evening of music was enjoyed, vocal selections being rendered by the male quartet and instrumental numbers by the hostess, while Mrs. A. H. Theal gave several comic readings in a pleasing manner. Refreshments of watermelon wheels and assorted candies were served at the close of the pleasant evening.

Distinguished Guest
Mrs. Jennie Berry of Cedar Rapids, Ia., was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Raugh during Tuesday and Wednesday. Intimate friendship has existed since 1895, when the latter were residents of that city. At this time Mrs. Berry is visiting her parents in Los Angeles, who have come to make this their home during their remaining years of life.

Mrs. Berry, in her earlier years, devoted her entire time to music and literary work, then later to local work in the Woman's Relief Corps, filling the several official positions, until 1910, at Salt Lake City, she was elected national president of that organization for that year, and at present is consulting adviser to that office. At her home she is a member of the Child Labor Bureau of Iowa.

She was a delegate at San Francisco to the "Federation Clubs." Mr. Berry will join her the first of next month to attend the G.A.R. encampment at Los Angeles. She is also a member of the committee on education of the Y. W. C. A. of Cedar Rapids.

Dinner Party
Miss Anna McFadden was hostess Tuesday evening at a small dinner party given for her house guest of this week, Miss Helen Gridley of San Gabriel. Miss Gridley is a Cumtuck girl, and Miss Winifred Roberts, a recent graduate of that popular school, was another of the dinner guests. These, with Miss McFadden, the hostess, and Messrs. William Smart, Stewart Smith and Lamont McFadden, made up the small company gathered at the daintily spread dining table where the three-course dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock.

Cecil Bruner roses were combined in a charming centerpiece and rose designs adorned the hand-painted place cards. The evening following was spent in a happily social way.

Last Rites for Mrs. Smith

The funeral of Mrs. E. Smith was held yesterday afternoon at the home of her son, Ellis H. Smith, in Tustin. Rev. W. L. C. Samson of the United Presbyterian church had charge of the services and spoke feelingly of Mrs. Smith's life. The floral pieces, which were sent as last tokens of the affection and regard in which she was held, were unusually beautiful. Mrs. Smith is survived by two sons, Ellis H. Smith of Tustin, and Chester Smith of Los Angeles, her husband, Wilbur Smith, having preceded her to the Great Beyond about two years ago. A quartet composed of Mrs. Stevenson, Miss Marjorie McGee, C. Percival Garratt and W. R. Currie, sang the sixteenth and twenty-third Psalms. The pallbearers were R. P. Hoffman, F. A. Poole, Fred Morehead, C. E. Hatch, Brooks, and George W. Pollard.

TWO MEN FINED IN CASES OF CRUELTY

Orange News: Two more cases of cruelty to animals were tried in justice court yesterday afternoon, following arrests made by Humane Officer McMillan, who is keeping a sharp lookout for such conditions.

The two defendants were E. D. Thomas of Anaheim, and G. Marinus of Brea Canyon. Thomas was charged with driving horses unfit for service, but was not held directly responsible. He was given a fine of $5, but the fine was suspended. Marinus was arrested for driving a mule that had a very bad neck. He paid a fine of $25.

PROFITABLE DAILY TITHING.

"Daily Heavenly Manne."

This little book is having the largest circulation of any of its kind and is conceded by Christians everywhere to be the most helpful.

If Christians allow the rush and crush of selfish ambition to deprive them of their daily portion of heavenly food, they must not be surprised if they grow spiritually leaner day by day, and if the peace of God gives place in their hearts to the discontent which is growing in the world, notwithstanding the multiplication of our comforts and privileges.

Daily Heavenly Manne contains a collection of Scripture texts with appropriate quotations for every day in the year. Surely the little tithe of time daily spent in partaking of its morsels of heavenly counsel cannot fail to profit all who partake. It is published to do good—not for profit.

Your Friends' Birth Dates.

An autograph and birthday record feature in this book is a great convenience. Opposite each day of the year are blank lines upon which you can secure the autographs of your friends and be reminded of their birthdays as they occur. This makes the book more valuable yearly. In ten years you would not sell it for ten dollars.

Besides it has a place for Birth Records, Marriage Records and Death Records. Also it has a table showing the day of the week of any date for one hundred and fifty years.

Printed on bond writing paper, blue cloth, handsome. Price, 35 cents postpaid; imitation alligator skin, gold edges, $1.00 postpaid. Order now. Bible and Tract Society, 17 Hicks Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

ELECTRIC FOUNTAIN OF UNIQUE KIND IN SALEM

One of the most beautiful electric fountains installed in the West was recently completed at Salem, Oregon, by F. W. Darlington of Philadelphia.

The fountain represents an expense of more than $6000 and is a gift to the city by Mrs. E. M. Waite in memory of her husband, one of the pioneer printers of the state. It is located in the center of Wilson park, midway between the federal building and the state capitol. A dozen designs are available and seven differently colored electric globes utilized in producing unusual effects, one of which is to represent full grown wheat in the stalk. Every evening for half an hour the fountain plays and its beauty attracts a large number of people.

A Fair Retort

A gentleman high school teacher was severely reprimanding one of his pupils for not having his algebra lessons better and stated that before George Washington was his age he was competent and able to take a compass and do surveying.

The pupil replied, "Yes, and before he was your age he was president of the United States."—Judge's Library.

They Were Quite

A city fellow while hunting went out into the country one day and lost his way, and as he was standing by a crossroad he saw a farmer a little way off. He walked over to the farmer and said, "Say Pat, which road leads to the station?" "How do you know my name is Pat?" asked the farmer. "I guessed it," said the fellow. "Well," replied the farmer, "then guess the way to the station."—Judge's Library.

The Lamp of Life

The comparison of human life to the burning and going out of a lamp was familiar with Latin authors, as we know by the term seces decrepiti. Plutarch explains the origin of this metaphor thus: The ancients never extinguished their lamps, but suffered them to go out of their own accord—that is, by the last crackle. Hence a lamp just about to expire was said decrepitate, to cease to crackle. Hence, metaphorically, persons on the verge of the grave were called decrepit men.

WORTH KNOWING

If leather in chair seats sticks to the clothing, sponge with a mixture of ether and alcohol, dampening the cloth lightly, and following it by wiping off with a clean flannel dampened with pure chloroform.

Jerusalem artichokes peeled and left in cold water to keep them from discoloring, and then sliced thin with a silver knife and served on lettuce leaves with a French dressing, make a delicious dinner salad.

It is becoming more and more the fashion to serve fruit salads with game. These should be tossed in a French vinaigrette dressing of oil and vinegar, seasoned with salt and freshly ground black pepper.

When books become badly soiled on the edges, if not gilt edged, close the book tightly and erase the marks with an ink eraser. This will cut off all the rough edges, all soiled marks and leave the book quite clean.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Genuine Belgian Charity

Around a hut where, according to tradition, a young Irish princess was murdered, grew up the present town of Ghel, in Belgium, which became known as "the colony of the crazed." At first a temple in memory of the princess was erected and later it became a refuge for the "sick in mind." The remarkable thing about this Belgian town is that the residents accept patients in their own homes so that they may enjoy their own beneficial effects of domestic and social intercourse.

A Panama Christmas.

Reginald de Koven, at a dinner in New York, said, apropos of Christmas: "A French engineer described to me the other day a Panama Christmas—an almost tropical Christmas, with blazing sunshine, palms, and clouds of mosquitoes."

He said that a friend of his, a Provincial engineer, had taken to drink in order to enliven the tedium of Panama life, and one Christmas, calling on the man, he found him sleeping without the protection of a mosquito curtain.

"I can't understand," he whispered to the Provincial engineer's servant, "how your master can sleep without a net. Don't the mosquitoes trouble him?"

"No, sir," the servant answered; "they don't trouble him at all, sir. You see, in the first part of his sleep, he's always so tipsy that he don't pay any attention to the mosquitoes, and, in the last part, the mosquitoes are so tipsy they don't pay any attention to him."

A Misunderstanding.

Mrs. Youngwedd (to caterer's boy): "Oh, this is the chicken salad my husband ordered. Here's the money for it. And now you must tell me how you make it."

Boy (puzzled)—I can't tell you how it's made, mum.

Mrs. Youngwedd—But you must; my husband told me when I paid for it to be sure and get the receipt.—Boston Transcript.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Mrs. Frank Roche, divorced wife of Aurel Batonyi, whose divorce cost nearly $70,000, will receive for life the income on $2,000,000, according to the will of her father, Frank Work, who left an estate valued at $13,566,534.

The will provided that Edmund and Frank Roche, grandsons, should become American citizens and change their name to Work, in order to receive $2,716,917 each. Neither has complied with the terms of the will. Cynthia Roche Burden, granddaughter of Mr. Work, receives $2,632,202 for marrying an American, Arthur Scott Burden.

HIGHLAND GROWERS USE GIANT POWDER INSTEAD OF PLOW

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 15.—Orange growers in the Highland district are using giant powder instead of the plow to break up the hardpan found in many of the orchards and assist in the distribution of water to the trees. W. T. Noyes, R. A. Boyd and J. B. T. Leavens are experimenting, and have obtained excellent results from exploding dynamite in the quadrangles formed by the trees. When the charge explodes it allows the water to sink quickly in the disturbed area and radiate by soil saturation to the roots of the orange trees.

TO SIMPLIFY OFFICE WORK

Freeholders Propose to Put Streets in Charge of the City Engineer

May Conclude to do Away With
Office of Assessor—Library
Board Remains

The board of freeholders last night tentatively decided in favor of putting into the charter provisions for making the city engineer ex-officio street superintendent and for making the city clerk also city auditor. No vote was taken, but it was generally understood that the Public Library would continue to be in charge of a separate board as at present, except that one of the city commissioners must be on the library board. The provision to have a commissioner on the board is deemed advisable in order that there may be closer touch between the library board and the city board. The matter was discussed last night at the meeting of the freeholders.

You will find all sizes of GARBAGE CANS. We notice that the Health Department of our town has discovered that too much decaying and offensive stuff is allowed to accumulate at the "Back Door" and as it is our business to make and sell galvanized iron garbage cans and we want everybody that needs such an article to know it, that's why we ask the printer to tell it.

We have a good stock of galvanized corrugated roofing and two car loads to arrive. We handle only the heavier grade and we sell it below the Los Angeles market.

For anything in the line of hardware, stoves, tinware, galvanized iron ware, plumbing goods and every other thing that should be kept in a hardware store and tinshop. See ers, officials of the library being present. Assistant Fire Chief G. E. Peters discussed the best methods of managing the fire department. The general sentiment seemed to be in favor of the present method, which leaves the firemen to select their own chief and officers. The matter was referred to the firemen for further recommendations and details.

The action of making the city engineer ex-officio superintendent of streets is a consolidation of offices. At present the city has no auditor, and giving the clerk the duties of auditor would better the system of keeping track of the city's business.

No vote has been taken, but the sentiment that has been expressed so far seems favorable to doing away with the office of city assessor. The plan is to have the assessment and tax collection attended to by the county. At present the city marshal is tax collector. That matter, however, has not been decided.

FASHION'S HINTS.

A vest of flowered linen, with revers of black satin, give a smart touch to a frock of natural-colored linen. These vests, by the way, are decided features, and will be used on fall suits.

An evening gown of black chintilly lace was made over a foundation of emerald-green satin.

Deep butter color is one of the best and least common of the shades produced this season.

Almost without exception, the new-colored skirts are plaited. The softer materials, chiffon, mousseline de soie and crepe de chene, are accented or sun plaited. Heavier fabrics are side or box plaited.

Buttons of carved mother-of-pearl and bone are much used to adorn frocks of cream and white linen.

Short jackets quaintly like the costume of a matador are among the fall styles shown.

Others follow the lines of the directoire period, showing the raised waist line, wide turned-back cuffs, Robespierre collars and deep revers.

The pannier gown has taken a place in modes.

Jackets are attaining unusually large proportions. Long plastrons, which nearly cover the blouse, are made of tucked net and maline lace.

Embroidered voiles show broche effects and both hand and machine work is used. The Robespierre collar and ruchings are used.

Radium is Unique Riddle

Among scientists it is very generally conceded that the discovery of radium gave to the world one of its most interesting and unique riddles. After all the "cranks" as well as "geniuses" had failed to produce a perpetual motion machine; after all the alchemists and their scientific successors, the chemists, had failed to change any single chemical element into another, and the world had settled down to the belief in the impossibility of achieving either of these aims, the discovery of the phenomena of radio-activity seemed to show the fallacy of the conclusion in both cases.—Popular Mechanics.

MOTOR COP IS PUT TO WORK

City Trustees and Marshal to enforce ordinance on Speed and Mufflers

After a conference this morning between the City Trustees and City Marshal Jernigan, it was decided to put on a special motorcycle officer for the purpose of enforcing the city ordinance against speeding and providing that motor vehicles shall carry mufflers.

The city marshal states that there has been considerable complaint from residence districts against motorcycles and automobiles that tear along the streets at night without mufflers to deaden the noise.

There has also been much complaint that the best streets of the city are being used as speedways, a practice that vigorous enforcement of the law will tend to stop.

The city authorities this morning employed Lambert of Tustin as motorcycle officer.

HELD POSITION OF MUCH IMPORTANCE

Concerning the death and life of William D. Nicholson, formerly a resident of Orange, the Berkeley Gazette of July 3 had the following:

William D. Nicholson, well known civil engineer, of 2735 Hillegass avenue, this city, who was in the employ of the state highway commission, died at Sacramento yesterday afternoon after a brief illness due to peripheral nephritis and pneumonia. Decedent, who was 62 years old, had been a resident of this city for many years and had a wide circle of friends in all the bay cities.

A graduate of the United States naval academy at Annapolis, Nicholson served several years as an engineer officer in the navy. He was the son of Rear Admiral Nicholson of Civil war fame and a grandson of Admiral Nicholson, who as Captain Nicholson, U.S. navy, was the commander of Paul Jones in the naval exploits of the early days in this country.

William Nicholson was an engineer of wide reputation, having occupied many positions of great importance. As chief engineer and general agent, he took a prominent part in the construction of the Mexican National railroad. As assistant engineer of the Santa Fe railroad he was largely responsible for the successful construction of the China basin in San Francisco. He was chief of construction of the R. & B. railroad of California and in that capacity met with an accident that caused him partially to lose the use of his left arm. Nicholson was also chief of construction of the Ocean Shore railroad and lost considerable of his fortune in that financially disastrous enterprise.

He was the only living member on the Pacific coast of the coveted Order of Cincinnati and was also a member of the following orders: Mount Moriah lodge No. 44, F. and A. M., of San Francisco; San Francisco Chapter, R. A. M., Golden Gate Commandery No. 16, Knights Templar, and Islam Temple, Ancient Arabic Order Noble Shrine, of San Francisco.

Deceased is survived by a widow and ten children, four sons and six daughters. The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock under the auspices of Durand lodge No. 288, F. and A. M. in Masonic temple, this city, at the request of the Mount Moriah lodge.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The first local cauliflower of the year is coming on the market at this time and is selling right along with the northern cauliflower at from $1.25 to $1.50 per dozen. Red cabbage is plentiful and is bringing 65 cents on the best stock. Red cabbage is also obtainable at about 2 cents a pound. The demand for sweet corn is excellent and the market continues very firm, best corn selling at 50 cents a box yesterday morning. Cream squash is the highest priced variety of the numerous squash family and is bringing 75 cents a box, while summer squash is worth about 30 cents. Tomatoes of good quality were more plentiful and the market dropped to 65 cents down to 45 with only fair buying of the vegetable. Cucumbers are bringing a good figure at 85 cents and the bunch vegetables are all unchanged.

There was a fair call for berries, which were more in evidence than at any time during the week and prices were a trifle off, blackberries as low as 8 cents, raspberries down to 8 and strawberries down to 6 cents. The demand was light. Cranberries, plentiful and of excellent quality, coming in from the north in lug boxes at the best Siberian variety selling at $1.60 per box. There were no changes in the apple market and the fruit sold slowly. Receipts of the day totaled 80 boxes over a car, 480 boxes in all.

In the world of staple products there were no changes of any kind. The demand for eggs was fair and receipts of the product were 253 cases. Some outside eggs were reported in and sales practically under the market were the rule on these.

The demand for butter was not at its best and receipts were 30,377 lbs. The call for this commodity in the east has apparently fallen off, for with the announcement of higher quotations in the Far West, the eastern prices declined slightly. Cheese to arrive from eastern points is being offered for future delivery, but at the prices as quoted at present, there has been little attitude toward purchasing. Receipts yesterday of local cheese were 2465 pounds.

The call for potatoes was a trifle brighter than for some time past and receipts were 1163 sacks. There were no changes in any quotations on the stock. No onions and only 23 sacks of beans were reported in.

The first new apricots offered for sale on the market were chalked up at 1/4 to 1/2 cents under the dried fruit list, which is nearly 3 cents under the year's stock, still on hand and there is a little on hand, having passed out of the hands of the jobbers several months ago in the majority of instances. Other dried fruit is showing a little weakness with the coming of the fresh stock.

When you buy your glasses of Wilcox you know they are right in quality as well as in price.

More Than She Cares For
—Now After BaggageOFFICERS TRIED TO FIX IT UPOld Tent and Chicken Coop Did Not Look Very Good to the German Bride

Mrs. William Lugsch wants her baggage. She was married to William Lugsch in order to get into this country. She does not want Lugsch, but she does want her baggage, and Deputy Sheriff Squires and Constable Heard think she ought to have it. They thought it was all arranged, but the tangle is not yet straightened out. This morning a German woman told the officers a strange story.

She said that a few weeks ago her cousin, William Lugsch, arrived in Germany for a visit. He told her of the great advantages of living in America, and accordingly when Lugsch started this way the woman was a passenger on the same boat. The woman says that at New York there was trouble with the immigration officers because there was no one to stand sponsor for the woman, no one to guarantee her support, no one to guarantee her employment, no husband to look after her.

It seems that it was Lugsch who hit upon the happy thought. He told her that the difficulty would be solved if she would marry him. Otherwise she would have to go back to the old country forthwith.

The woman says that is the reason she married Lugsch. The couple traveled to Houston, Texas, together. There they had to separate as the tickets that Lugsch had called for different routes. Lugsch kept the baggage checks. The woman arrived here several days ahead of her new husband, who got here on Tuesday. The woman got employment in Eisman's restaurant near the Santa Fe depot at Orange.

The officers were told that Lugsch invited the woman out to their home. That home proved to be an old tent erected back of a chicken-house on Dr. J. G. Bernike's ranch. Either the house did not look good enough, or she had decided she did not want her cousin for a husband. She refused to stay.

She asked the officers to help her get the baggage. She had a box and a basket in the lot, that had been taken from the depot to Lugsch's place.

Squires and Heard rode to the place, and talked it over with Lugsch. Lugsch agreed to return the baggage to Santa Ana, and allow the woman to go on with her employment unmolested. The officers thought everything was lovely, and Squires and Heard were patting each other on the back. They thought that their attempt at settling marital woes was done with an éclat equal to that of a divorce court.

While they were talking it over and congratulating themselves, the telephone bell rang. It was Dr. Bernike on the 'phone. He said the arrangement was all off, that Lugsch had concluded that since he and the woman were legally married he would keep the baggage.

After that Squires and Heard were not so certain that their venture into the peace-making business was auspicious. However, their efforts are not yet at an end.

Santa Ana people testify to their worth.

I. W. Parsons, 402 W. Fourth St., Santa Ana, Cal., says: "Several years have passed since I first publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and now, as I did at that time, I claim that they are the best kidney medicine on the market. I have used them off and on as occasion has required and have never failed to get relief. Some time ago the kidney secretions became too frequent in passage and caused me annoyance. I commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Dean's Drug Store (now Wheeler &amp; Mateer's Drug Store) and the contents of one box greatly strengthened my kidneys."

IN THE JUSTICE COURT*WARRANT OUT
FOR WALTERSMan Who Ran Over Ellis
Trickey With Auto is Charged
With a Felony

Today a warrant was issued for the arrest of Charles Walters, who ran over Ellis Trickey with an automobile. Walters was driving an automobile belonging to Henry Kennedy of Orange, for whom Walters worked. About a week ago, while Kennedy was away, Walters took the automobile, drove to Santa Ana and was returning when at the north end of the North Main street bridge he ran over Trickey and Trickey's motorcycle. Walters kept on going, and when another motorcyclist followed him and caught up with him, Walters refused to turn back.

Under the state law, one who, in an automobile, runs over another person and does not stop to render assistance is guilty of a felony.

After the accident Walters drove the automobile into Kennedy's garage, and disappeared. The officers have no clue as to his whereabouts.

DECREE HEREJudge Willis Granted Divorce and Soon Afterward Came Wedding at Oxnard

By signing of a final decree of divorce yesterday, Judge Willis of Los Angeles allowed a wedding to be consummated at Oxnard. The decree of divorce was in favor of Leona Tillman and against Karl Tillman. Arrangements had been made for the wedding in Ventura County at a date after which there would be no trouble about getting the final decree for the woman. However, those interested had not counted upon the fact that Judge West is away, and that there is no judge sitting here.

County Clerk Williams telephoned to Los Angeles for a judge, and Judge Willis responded. He signed the final decree. The news was telephoned to Ventura County, where a license was immediately issued to Leona Tillman to marry Max Gercke, who were married soon afterward. The woman was a nurse at Oxnard about a year ago when she was called upon to nurse Gercke. Their acquaintance ripened into an engagement and yesterday's wedding resulted.

Defendant Got It
While here Judge Willis signed a final decree of divorce in the action of Ivy Willis against William Willis. The interlocutory decree of divorce was granted Mrs. Willis in 1904, but neither she nor Willis applied for a final decree until yesterday when application was made by Willis, who lives at Laguna Beach.Suits For Divorce
